Lesson 10.2: Sample Assessment

1) Name the common plotting module for Python.
2) What is the function used to generate simple scatter plots or plots where x,y data is joined with line segments? What are the three basic variables that are provided to this function?
3) What is the function used to generate histograms? What are the two basic variables that are provided to this function?